

Project or Senior Transportation Engineer

Come join our award-winning regional team of transportation engineers. This position will be based in Sanderson Stewart's Billings or Bozeman, Montana offices.

Responsibilities:

- Oversee and accomplish transportation engineering design on assigned projects
- Perform as project manager or project engineer as appropriate
- Develop proposals and scopes of work for major project pursuits
- Familiar with state-of-the-practice design standards and relevant federal, state and local regulations
- Serve as a technical specialist in roadway design and hydraulics
- Manage individual and team effort to control budgets and meet goals for quality and schedule
- Develop and maintain client relationships
- Create a positive working environment through supportive teamwork, proactive communication and enthusiastic attitude

Qualifications:

- Minimum of BS in Civil Engineering
- Minimum of 6 years of relevant transportation engineering experience; MDT experience preferred
- PE in Montana or ability to obtain by reciprocity is required
- Prior experience in roadway design and/or hydraulics.
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively and communicate with diverse members of a project team
- Demonstrated experience with design software (Microstation, Geopak preferred)
- Strong technical writing and presentation skills

Sanderson Stewart is a multi-disciplinary design firm with a powerful core purpose: To Plan and Design Enduring Communities. We work beyond the basic requirements and apply creative design solutions that work, knowing the success of the project affects the entire community. That belief has led us to develop a framework for a holistic design-thinking and project delivery approach we call Complete Design. And our passion for creative but practical design has driven Sanderson Stewart to become an award-winning regional Community Design firm.

Join one of The Best Firms to Work For and make a difference in the lives of your neighbors; leave a mark that will last well beyond your lifetime. Join our team and help to plan and design communities that will endure for generations to come. We are always on the lookout for Cool, Smart, Talented People who are ridiculously committed to bettering our communities and their careers!

Please send your resume to: aschneider@sandersonstewart.com or

Sanderson Stewart
1300 North Transtech Way
Billings, MT 59102.

Visit us at: www.sandersonstewart.com

EOE